

BUSINESS RULES

1. Login must require both email and password fields.
2. Login must fail if the email does not exist in the system.
3. Login must fail if the password does not match the stored password.
4. Login response must return user id, email, and role.
5. Registration must require email, password, and role.
6. Email must be unique during registration.
7. Role parameter must be provided when calling getUsersByRole.
8. Role must strictly be one of: CUSTOMER, MANAGER, WAITER, CHEF.
9. Password must not be returned in any login or registration response.
10. Email format must be valid during registration.
11. Once the status of the booking is cancelled, it cannot be reverted
12. Only existing users can book a table
13. Booking time cannot be past
14. Manager handles booking table
15. Table id cannot be null in orders
16. Role comparison must be case-sensitive.
17. Invalid role values must not return unrelated users.
18. Items in the order should be greater than or equal to 1.

19. Quantity cannot be zero in items
20. The API must return all existing bookings.
21. Each booking must include time, customerId, number of people and status.
22. The flow of status in the order must be placed->preparing->prepared->served
23. Number of people cannot be negative for booking.
24. Order status can be changed to "served" only by the waiter.
25. Order status can be changed to "preparing" or "prepared" by the chef.
26. The booking returned must match the requested ID exactly.
27. Only waiters and chefs can modify the orders
28. Only manager can create chef and waiter
29. All id's are unique for each entity
30. Multiple users can be created with the same email but different roles